From the Pastor's Desk

Sunday we were blessed with Cliff Barna's sermon, "No, Not That!" from Matthew 19:16–22, which tells the story of the young rich man and his struggle to follow Jesus. How easy it is for us to make common things of this world our God. We really do not do bad things, but we can become over powered by material things and personal goals that can invade our lives and become important. Like Cliff said, "football for him was his goal, life, his idol. We all have something in our lives that keeps us from, "glorifying our Lord and God". Money, relationships, success, power, beauty, popularity, social status, and pride to name a few. All of these things invade our lives, makes us question our duty, our calling as men and women of faith.

When we become older we question ourselves. We wonder if we have followed the right road in our life; you know the road of service, the road of self-sacrifice, the road of kindness, and the road of loving others, as ourselves. We need to be careful about one thing—our relationship with God. Sometimes, our inter-being tells us differently, we must be concerned about today, tomorrow, and next month. So we cannot truly enjoy what we have by worrying about what we do not have. What are you planning for next month or this summer? Oswald Chambers shared this, "Our Lord Jesus tells us not to worry about any of these things." Look and think. Keep your mind on the "much more" of your heavenly father." Our God is a "much more" God, in that he gives us much more than we deserve.
